Mark Twain once said, "History does not repeat itself, but it does rhyme." I wonder what Twain would think if he looked around America today? When unemployment rates hit crisis levels during the early 1930's, the unemployed took to the streets and demanded relief aid from the government.

Progressive Historians: History For Our Future

A historian is a person who studies and writes about the past, and is regarded as an authority on it. Historians are concerned with the continuous, methodical narrative and research of past events as relating to the human race; as well as the study of all history in time.
